

Bolsheviki May Turn Against Germans Is Latest Development

German Peace Terms Were So One
Sided That Russian Delegates
Hoot Teuton Representatives

BELIEVED THEY WILL NOT MEET AGAIN

London, Jan. 2.—Close upon the heels of United Press dispatches London newspapers declared that Petrograd reports announced that the Bolsheviki had refused to accept the German peace conditions at the Brest Litovsk conference. Dispatches from Munich via Berne today declared that within ten days the Germans "would modify their peace conditions."

According to Petrograd dispatches the Bolsheviki threw out the German conditions and hooted the German peace conferees out of Brest Litovsk. London newspapers declared unqualifiedly that the Bolsheviki had established "their honesty." Railway service has been resumed between Riga and Petrograd the latest advice asserted.

Experts here shortly after the receipt of those dispatches intimated a belief that the militarists in Germany had found their gain in Russia backed by the Bolsheviki and had determined to make a bold face of the matter. This belief was intensified by the Bolsheviki administrator's announcement through the United Press that the Germans were increasing their methods of warfare. The Brest Litovsk conference it was said broke up with the Russian delegates taunting the German conferees about their demands. This indicated that the conference would not be resumed. The Germans agreed to evacuate all of white Russia but wanted to retain a garrison at Liebau, Riga and other occupied Russian territory until peace had been assured. This the Russians refused to agree to and the meeting broke up with the Russians hooting the Junkists of Germany. Dispatches from the London Daily Times' correspondent in Petrograd said that the Bolsheviki are organized to fight. "I have reliable information regarding the peace negotiations," he said. "The had found their gain in Russia backed by the Bolsheviki and had determined to

General Sibert Transferred From France To An American Army Post

Washington, Jan. 2.—Orders were issued today assigning General Mann, who has been commander of the Rainbow division in France, to be commander of the Eastern Department at Governor's Island, New York. At the same time General Hoyle was retired from that department to inactive list. It was stated that General Sibert, head of General Pershing's expeditionary forces, would soon be relieved of that charge and be placed as commander of the Southeastern Department with headquarters at Charleston, S. C. General Sibert's assignment is apparently the result of recommendations from General Pershing that he be relieved from his important task abroad.

General Mann's place in France will be taken by General Charles Menoper, but General Sibert's successor has not been announced. It was suggested that other retired officers will be relieved by men on the active list later, although apparently no general policy in this respect has been reached. The transfer of General Sibert caused a stir in the War department inasmuch as there has been friction between General's Pershing and Sibert.

COURT NOTES

A brief session of Monday morning court Monday morning gave District Attorney Welch an opportunity to turn over clean up his criminal list in an attempt to turn over the affairs of the Public Prosecutor's office to his successor on next Monday.

Three juvenile court cases from the DuBois region were first on the list. The first to be called was that of Helen Kumazina, a bright little 10 year old Lithuanian girl, whose home was in DuBois. She was charged with being delinquent and neglected. Evidence showing that the police would pick her up on the streets of DuBois at 4 o'clock in the morning and on taking her home would find the door locked. She testified that both her father and mother abused her and the Court placed her in the custody of the Sheriff and Detention Officer Leavy until a suitable home could be provided for her.

George Bajalad, a 14 year old DuBois boy, who was out on parole, was again before the Court charged with stealing a pocketbook at the Empire theatre. He acknowledged the theft, implicating another lad, and was committed in the custody of the Sheriff for further investigation.

Joe Zelinski, a 12 year old Tyndal boy, who was mixed up in a store robbery over there, was pooled in the custody of Probation Officer Leavy and Squire Kruchow of Tyndal.

Abke Rozinski, a DuBois junk dealer, who was in jail charged with receiving stolen goods, was allowed to

Coal Price Gouge Brings Storm Of Protest From Consumers Who Will Fight Injustice

The New Prices of Custom Coal Will
Yield Haulers a Profit of Nearly
One Hundred Per cent.

PRICE JUMPED EIGHTY CENTS PER TON

"NOTICE
"On and after the 1st of the year all custom coal will be 15c a bushel and all steam coal will be $3.25 per ton."

"TEAMSTERS' ASSN."

The above notice appeared in Monday evening's issue of The Progress and has occasioned a storm of protest all over the community. The Teamsters' Association comes in for a great deal of adverse criticism and from the development of the facts surrounding the coal situation we must say this adverse criticism is justly due the Teamsters' Association for such action at this time.

Within the space of a very few months the price of custom coal delivered in Clearfield has jumped from seven cents per bushel up to twelve cents and while the greatly advanced price worked a distinct hardship on many of our people, the greatly increased price was paid largely through necessity and because both coal operator and coal hauler justified the increase by reference to the advance in the price of mining and the advance in the cost of horse feed.

Everybody naturally thought the limit had been reached, but when this

Teamsters' Association raise was arbitrarily foisted upon a long suffering people the worm feels decidedly like turning and the matter of custom coal prices in Clearfield has become a vital thing to be considered by the Committee of Public Safety and the recently appointed Fuel Director of the county.

We are unable to say just who or how many people constitute the Teamsters' Association, but we do know that a number of coal operators whom we approached on the matter in our search for information regarding this boost of three cents per bushel in the price and find that the raise is due entirely to the action or decision of the members of this association alone, as with one exception there has been no increase in the price of coal at the dump to the hauler.

Producers of coal advise this office this morning that they are selling their coal to the teamsters at seven and eight cents per bushel which makes the coal cost the teamster $1.85 to $2.12 per net ton of 26 and one third bushels. The teamsters have been retailing this coal to the consumer at twelve cents per bushel which amounts to $3.18 per net ton or a profit for hauling and carrying counts of at least $1.06 per net ton. Many of the haulers deliver as many as four fifty bushel loads of coal per day and thereby earn $8 per day. Others who buy cheaper coal earn more. The new price gouge will yield the haulers eighty cents more on the ton or approximately $6 more per day. Some of the haulers are enabled to make only three deliveries per day but these usually haul sixty and sixty-five bushel loads and make three deliveries daily with a profit yield of about the same size.

The fact remains that the producer of coal is getting only from $1.85 to $2.12 per net ton for his coal while the teamster seeks to resell this same ton for $3.98. The hauler or dealer, as he becomes in this case, is making a one hundred per cent gross profit. It is out of all reason and a condition that will not be accepted by their patrons without a protest. The recently appointed Fuel Director for this county will no doubt take this matter up and force an arrangement that will be just and equitable.

Anent the coal situation in Clearfield there is a growing feeling that the recommendation of The Progress that the coal weighing ordinance should be enforced. Wagon bed measurements are unfair to all parties and is not a legal method of selling coal. This matter will, however, be a matter for the borough authorities although it would be to the lasting credit of the Fuel Administrator of the County if he would insist that this ordinance be enforced.

Six counties of Kansas have won county clerks.

That the little mining town of Boardman is doing its bit towards making the world safe for Democracy is beyond the least question of doubt. Although it has a population of between six and seven hundred souls it has sent fifteen men to the front of the camps; contributed $1,200 to the Red Cross; bought $10,000 worth of Liberty Bonds and given $500 to the Y. Philipsburg Boys Have Very Narrow Escape

Fumes From Auto in Garage Put
Lads to Sleep Quickly

What might have been a fatal mishap, had it not been for Mrs. G. W. Bratton, whose timely arrival in their garage, happened when two of her sons, Conrad and Warren, were overcome by the fumes from burning gasoline Monday about 9 o'clock, at Philipsburg.

The boys went out to the garage and started the engines in their autos to charge the storage batteries, the doors being closed. The youngest son, Warren, fell asleep almost immediately and fell off the running board and bumped open the door enough to attract the mother's attention, who was in another part of the building. By the time she arrived, Conrad was almost overcome and gasping for breath. Both were hurried to the house and two doctors summoned to administer to their needs.

People should take this as a warning and see that there is plenty of ventilation when running a car in a garage, as in this instance the boys were overcome within five minutes.

Send Men To France At Once Says Col. House On Return

Tells Secretary of State That Men Must
Be Sent At Once Regardless of
Equipment and Training

PLAN TO COOPERATE WITH THE ALLIES

Washington, Jan. 2.—American fighting forces must be dispatched to Europe "without the least possible delay, regardless of training or equipment," Col. House, back from his mission to the allied countries, told Secretary of State Lansing.

Speed and co-ordination of shipbuilding are likewise prime requisites. Unity of effort—military and economic—between the Allies and the United States is essential.

These recommendations mean that the Allies hereafter work in unity. The period of training for American army will doubtless be shortened, if this can be done with shipping and other resources at hand. A summary of House's report shows that "the special war mission succeeded in its purpose in arranging a general working plan between the Allies and the United States for the rest of the war."

Sir Cecil Spring-Rice notified Secretary of State Lansing today of his intention and it is assumed that his departure will be made at a very early date.

EMPEY'S OVER THE TOP

Begins Monday, January 7th

Sergt. Arthur Guy Empey's story, "Over the Top," tells you what your soldier boy will experience when he fights for home and country.

Sergt. Empey is a typical American boy who entered the British army as a private when the Lusitania was sunk and recently came out a sergeant, being discharged from service on account of wounds received in going "Over the Top." No other writer has given such a true and understandable picture of life on the French front.

When Sergt. Empey lectured in Pittsburgh, Carnegie Hall was filled to overflowing with an audience that hung breathless on his every word. In his story, "Over the Top," he holds his readers the same way.

At a soldiers' tobacco fund concert in Pittsburgh, an autographed copy of this story was sold for $2.50 and other similar copies brought from $50 to $500 each. No matter what else may be written about the war, the Empey story will always be a classic of an American soldier in the trenches.

In this connection it must be noted that there are many illegitimate efforts to trade on the name and popularity of "Over the Top." Thus we hear of "Over the Top With Tommy Atkins," "Over the Top With the Flanders in Flanders," etc. The wonderful success of Empey's work has inspired a mad scramble for a valuable story and a popular song—all entitled "Over the Top," while the phrase "Over the Top" is being used in all sorts of other ways to attract attention. But the real, only and original "Over the Top," the one that will charm, instruct and enthral you, is the personal recital of Sergt. Arthur Guy Empey's adventures.

W. A. HAGERTY,
J2-5-16 Auditor.MUSICAL TREAT LAST SUNDAY

The choir of the Presbyterian church accompanied by Mr. James K. Horton at the organ, Miss Alice Smith at the piano and Mrs. Richard Patterson, violin, rendered a beautiful anthem at the morning service Sunday. In the evening the choir again sang the cantata "The King Cometh" before an enthusiastic congregation who spoke in the highest terms of praise of the rare musical treat. Mr. Horton, former organist of the church, gave an exceptionally fine organ recital of half an hour, preceding the cantata.

Eddie Cicotte and Eddie Plank, both of them real veterans of the big time, pitched rings around the young twirlers of the American league, according to the 1917 records.

Bolsheviki May Turn Against Germans Is Latest Development

German Peace Terms Were So One
Sided That Russian Delegates
Hoot Teuton Representatives

BELIEVED THEY WILL NOT MEET AGAIN

London, Jan. 2.—Close upon the heels of United Press dispatches London newspapers declared that Petrograd reports announced that the Bolsheviks had refused to accept the German peace conditions at the Brest Litovsk conference. Dispatches from Munich via Berne today declared that within ten days the Germans "would modify their peace conditions."

According to Petrograd dispatches the Bolsheviks threw out the German conditions and hooted the German peace conference out of Brest Litovsk. London newspapers declared unqualifiedly that the Bolsheviks had established "their honesty." Railway service has been resumed between Riga and Petrograd the latest advice asserted.

Experts here shortly after the receipt of those dispatches intimated a belief that the militarists in Germany had found their gain in Russia backed by the Bolsheviks and had determined to make a bold face of the matter. This belief was intensified by the Bolshevik administration's announcement through the United Press that the Germans were increasing their methods of warfare. The Brest Litovsk conference it was said broke up with the Russian delegates taunting the German conferees about their demands. This indicated that the conference would not be resumed. The Germans agreed to evacuate all of white Russia but wanted to retain a garrison at Liebau, Riga and other occupied Russian territory until peace had been assured. This the Russians refused to agree to and the meeting broke up with the Russians hooting the Junkists of Germany. Dispatches from the London Daily Times' correspondent in Petrograd said that the Bolsheviks are organized to fight. "I have reliable information regarding the peace negotiations," he said. "The had found their gain in Russia backed by the Bolsheviks and had determined

Washington, Jan. 2.—Orders were issued today assigning General Mann, who has been commander of the Rainbow division in France, to be commander of the Eastern Department at Governor's Island, New York. At the same time General Hoyle was retired from that department to inactive list. It was stated that General Sibert, head of General Pershing's expeditionary forces, would soon be relieved of that charge and be placed as commander of the Southeastern Department with headquarters at Charleston, S. C. General Sibert's assignment is apparently the result of recommendations from General Pershing that he be relieved from his important task abroad.

General Mann's place in France will be taken by General Charles Menoper, but General Sibert's successor has not been announced. It was suggested that other retired officers will be relieved by men on the active list later, although apparently no general policy in this respect has been reached. The transfer of General Sibert caused a stir in the War department inasmuch as there has been friction between General's Pershing and Sibert.

COURT NOTES

A brief session of Monday morning court Monday morning gave District Attorney Welch an opportunity to turn over clean up his criminal list in anticipation of turning over the affairs of the Public Prosecutor's office to his successor on next Monday.

Three juvenile court cases from the DuBois region were first on the list. The first to be called was that of Helen Kumazina, a bright little 10 year old Lithuanian girl, whose home was in DuBois. She was charged with being delinquent and neglected. Evidence showing that the police would pick her up on the streets of DuBois at 4 o'clock in the morning and on taking her home would find the door locked. She testified that both her father and mother abused her and the Court placed her in the custody of the Sheriff and Detention Officer Leavy until a suitable home could be provided for her.

George Bajalad, a 14 year old DuBois boy, who was out on parole, was again before the Court charged with stealing a pocketbook at the Empire theatre. He acknowledged the theft, implicating another lad, and was committed in the custody of the Sheriff for further investigation.

Joe Zelinski, a 12 year old Tyndal boy, who was mixed up in a store robbery over there, was presented in the custody of Probation Officer Leavy and Squire Kruchow of Tyndal.

Abke Rozinski, a DuBois junk dealer, who was in jail charged with receiving stolen goods, was allowed to

Coal Price Gouge Brings Storm Of Protest From Consumers Who Will Fight Injustice

The New Prices of Custom Coal Will
Yield Haulers a Profit of Nearly
One Hundred Per cent.

PRICE JUMPED EIGHTY CENTS PER TON

"NOTICE
"On and after the 1st of the year all custom coal will be 15c a bushel and all steam coal will be $3.25 per ton.

"TEAMSTERS' ASSN."

The above notice appeared in Monday evening's issue of The Progress and has occasioned a storm of protest all over the community. The Teamsters' Association comes in for a great deal of adverse criticism and from the development of the facts surrounding the coal situation we must say this adverse criticism is justly due the Teamsters' Association for such action at this time.

Within the space of a very few months the price of custom coal delivered in Clearfield has jumped from seven cents per bushel up to twelve cents and while the greatly advanced price worked a distinct hardship on many of our people, the greatly increased price was paid largely through necessity and because both coal operator and coal hauler justified the increase by reference to the advance in the price of mining and the advance in the cost of horse feed.

Everybody naturally thought the limit had been reached, but when this

Teamsters' Association raise was arbitrarily foisted upon a long suffering people the worm feels decidedly like turning and the matter of custom coal prices in Clearfield has become a vital thing to be considered by the Committee of Public Safety and the recently appointed Fuel Director of the county.

We are unable to say just who or how many people constitute the Teamsters' Association, but we do know that a number of coal operators whom we approached on the matter in our search for information regarding this boost of three cents per bushel in the price and find that the raise is due entirely to the action or decision of the members of this association alone, as with one exception there has been no increase in the price of coal at the dump to the hauler.

Producers of coal advise this office this morning that they are selling their coal to the teamsters at seven and eight cents per bushel which makes the coal cost the teamster $1.85 to $2.12 per net ton of 26 and one third bushels. The teamsters have been retailing this coal to the consumer at twelve cents per bushel which amounts to $3.18 per net ton or a profit for hauling and carrying counts of at least $1.06 per net ton. Many of the haulers deliver as many as four fifty bushel loads of coal per day and thereby earn $8 per day. Others who buy cheaper coal earn more. The new price gouge will yield the haulers eighty cents more on the ton or approximately $6 more per day. Some of the haulers are enabled to make only three deliveries per day but these usually haul sixty and sixty-five bushel loads and make three deliveries daily with a profit yield of about the same size.

The fact remains that the producer of coal is getting only from $1.85 to $2.12 per net ton for his coal while the teamster seeks to resell this same ton for $3.98. The hauler or dealer, as he becomes in this case, is making a one hundred per cent gross profit. It is out of all reason and a condition that will not be accepted by their patrons without a protest. The recently appointed Fuel Director for this county will no doubt take this matter up and force an arrangement that will be just and equitable.

Anent the coal situation in Clearfield there is a growing feeling that the recommendation of The Progress that the coal weighing ordinance should be enforced. Wagon bed measurements are unfair to all parties and is not a legal method of selling coal. This matter will, however, be a matter for the borough authorities although it would be to the lasting credit of the Fuel Administrator of the County if he would insist that this ordinance be enforced.

Six counties of Kansas have won county clerks.

Boardman Is Patriotic To The Last Notch

Little Mining Village Lays Claim To Major Fred B. Kerr

That the little mining town of Boardman is doing its bit towards making the world safe for Democracy is beyond the least question of doubt. Although it has a population of between six and seven hundred souls it has sent fifteen men to the front of the camps; contributed $1,200 to the Red Cross; bought $10,000 worth of Liberty Bonds and given $500 to the Y. M. C. A.

The fifteen men who have either enlisted or have been selected to fight for Uncle Sam are Alex Williamson, Alex Davidson, Dan Bloom, Joe Graham, Joe Farran, Fritz Sayers, James Page, Andy Bond, Joe Morrison, Geo. Bonner, Chester Kerr, Dr. Pisco, Allen Brown and Geo. Elden. Dr. Pisco having enlisted in one of the medical units for work overseas. This little town also lays claim to one who has also dropped all personal matters and taken up the burden. Fred B. Kerr who is one of the owners of the large coal mining operation here enlisted and has already won the rank of Major. Some of the other men have also won the right to wear insignia other than that of the private. Chester Kerr has been made a Captain, Dr. Pisco a Lieutenant, and Alex Davidson a Sergeant.

Both Lieut. Pisco and Sarg. Williamson are now in France and others are ready to go when the call comes.

Send Men To France At Once Says Col. House On Return

Tells Secretary of State That Men Must
Be Sent At Once Regardless of
Equipment and Training

PLAN TO COOPERATE WITH THE ALLIES

Washington, Jan. 2.—American fighting forces must be dispatched to Europe "without the least possible delay," regardless of training or equipment," Col. House, back from his mission to the allied countries, told Secretary of State Lansing.

Speed and co-ordination of shipbuilding are likewise prime requisites. Unity of effort—military and economic—between the Allies and the United States is essential.

These recommendations mean that the Allies hereafter work in unity. The period of training for American army will doubtless be shortened, if this can be done with shipping and other resources at hand. A summary of House's report shows that "the special war mission succeeded in its purpose in arranging a general working plan between the Allies and the United States for the rest of the war."

Begins Monday, January 7th

Sergt. Arthur Guy Empey's story, "Over the Top," tells you what your soldier boy will experience when he fights for home and country.

Sergt. Empey is a typical American boy who entered the British army as a private when the Lusitania was sunk and recently came out a sergeant, being discharged from service on account of wounds received in going "Over the Top." No other writer has given such a true and understandable picture of life on the French front.

When Sergt. Empey lectured in Pittsburgh, Carnegie Hall was filled to overflowing with an audience that hung breathless on his every word. In his story, "Over the Top," he holds his readers the same way.

At a soldiers' tobacco fund concert in Pittsburgh, an autographed copy of this story was sold for $2.50 and other similar copies brought from $50 to $500 each. No matter what else may be written about the war, the Empey story will always be a classic of an American soldier in the trenches.

In this connection it must be noted that there are many illegitimate efforts to trade on the name and popularity of "Over the Top." Thus we hear of "Over the Top With Tommy Atkins," "Over the Top With the Fichters in Flanders," etc. The wonderful success of Empey's work has inspired a mad scramble, a veritable skosh and a popular song—all entitled "Over the Top," while the phrase "Over the Top" is being used in all sorts of other ways to attract attention. But the real, only and original "Over the Top," the one that will charm, instruct and enthral you, is the personal recital of Sergt. Arthur Guy Empey's adventures.

J2-5-16 Auditor.MUSICAL TREAT LAST SUNDAY

The choir of the Presbyterian church accompanied by Mr. James K. Horton at the organ, Miss Alice Smith at the piano and Mrs. Richard Patterson, violin, rendered a beautiful anthem at the morning service Sunday. In the evening the choir again sang the cantata "The King Cometh" before an enthusiastic congregation who spoke in the highest terms of praise of the rare musical treat. Mr. Horton, former organist of the church, gave an exceptionally fine organ recital of half an hour, preceding the cantata.

Eddie Cicotte and Eddie Plank, both of them real veterans of the big time, pitched rings around the young twirlers of the American league, according to the 1917 records.
